

Invitation to Young Historians

Long ago and far away in a country where elephants and tigers play, a very pompous Englishman and lots of grand Maharajas decided to hold a party.

We are holding our party with some elephants, Maharajas, ladies in beautiful dresses and gentlemen in their Sunday best. Soldiers with lances & swords on camels, horses or marching with their bands - Ever so smart! A little elephant is having his bath in the background, chaps cooking chapatis and even a tiger in the long grass looking for his lunch!

Do come along, it will be a whiz of a party!

3 – 29 November
Monday – Saturday, 9.30am – 5pm

(Exhibition viewable from outside & late into the evening!)
